ABOUT

Handcrafted Products by Mayurbhanj Sabai Farmers Producers Company Limited

The district of Mayurbhanj is rich with a natural growing grass known as the sabai grass which is locally called as 'Bubei ghasa'. These grasses are mainly collected by women and then dried to make ropes by manually operated machines or labour intensive hand work. However, in some parts of the district, it was found that artistic hands of rural people had given a new dimension to sabai grass by making beautiful handcraft products. When sabai grass was identified as an opportunity, it played a major role in the transformation of lives of many tribal women. The artisans started crafting utility items and then a brand - 'Mayurshilpa' was launched to give a unique identity to their handcrafted products. Mayurshilpa is now actively working as a Producer company where it manages the clusters at different villages so that women across the district can get engaged with the craft. Mayurshilpa also plays an important role in fulfilling the orders, quality control, bring new designs as per the demand in the market, distribute work equally in the clusters, handhold and monitor the cluster activities and look after the welfare of the artisans. Mayurshilpa successfully market these products by fulfilling bulk orders, retail orders, online orders and also through flipkart.

PROCESS OF CRAFTING

Pre - Processing of Grass before Crafting

1. After the grasses are harvested, they are dried under the sunlight and then sold in the market. The artisans buy the grasses from the farmers and it is then distributed among each artisan.

3. The date palm leaves are collected from the nearby plants and then kept in water so that it does not tear off. These palm leaves are used in basketry for weaving.

4. The threads are set in loom

6.

The mats are woven as per the desired pattern and then such mats are made.

Process Of Making Loom Sabai Mats

5. The grasses are inserted in the weft

A Transformation Journey of Mrs. Usha Rani Nayak

Usha got married at the age of 14. She was born in a poor family where they could not even manage two proper meals.

She says in order to feed the barati (of groom side), she herself went to the jungle to collect stuffs to sell in the market, the very morning of the day of her marriage.

After her marriage, there was not even a single grain of food in their in-laws place.

They all starved for food. Her husband was jobless. Overcoming all the prejudices of the society, somehow she managed to join Anganwadi as a cook.

When the district administration was planning for the formation of Sabai cluster, she became very active and enthusiastic to form the cluster in her village and it is now successfully running as Guhaldihi Sabai Producer Group and she is the secretary of the Group.

Her motivation has turned their group from 20 members to 51 members today.

She envisions to provide employment to the women and empower them in her entire village with a dream that goods loaded in trucks should always move out from their cluster.

Sabai grass was traditionally used just for making ropes which was very labour intensive, while through design intervention, the grass has become a boon and has transformed many such Usha's lives.

Sabai - A boon to the lives of Rural Women

It is because of this initiative the rural women are self-reliant and are not a victim of domestic violence. Their craftsmanship and skill have helped them to fulfil their aspirations.
